

Lecture Notice
Department of English, University of Delhi

Doyeeta Majumder

on

Petrarch and the Construction of Selfhood

(Chair: Dr. Prasanta Chakravarty)

Dr. Doyeeta Majumder completed her first two degrees from Jadavpur University and her PhD from the University of St Andrews. Having taught at the University of Edinburgh, and then at Shiv Nadar University, Delhi, she is now an Assistant Professor of English Literature at her alma mater--Jadavpur University. Her research interests include early modern law and literature, political and juridical theory, intellectual history. Her monograph, entitled Tyranny and Usurpation: The New Prince and Lawmaking Violence in Early Modern England, is due to be published by University of Liverpool Press. She has also translated Niccolo Machiavelli's The Prince into Bangla (Rajpurush, Jadavpur University Press, 2011).

5 October 2018 | Friday | 2.30 pm.
Venue: Room 60, Department of English
Faculty of Arts (Main Campus)
University of Delhi
Delhi - 110007